Mr. Willennar Up Before Student Council

MISS MCKINLEY AND MR. SHORTZ ELOPE!

Married at Hillsdale

Miss McKinley and Mr. Shortz created quite a sensation in Garrett High School by eloping yesterday after school. The elopement was quite a surprise to the faculty as well as the students for the bride and groom had told no one of their intentions. The marriage ceremony took place at the Justice of Peace's office at Hillsdale, Mich. The happy couple returned to Garrett where they will continue teaching.

MISS DAVIS JOINS THE-ATRICAL COMPANY

Miss Davis recently resigned her position as instructor in the History Department in Garrett High School. She has signed a contract with the "We R. Best Theatrical Company." She is to be the leading lady in their next production. "It's a great life if you don't weaken."

Miss Gregory will broadcast tonite from station G. O. M. (Garrett's On' The Map).

NEWS SUMMARY

Student's plea for a new gymnasium in Garrett again rejected. Mr. Carroll says all plans will be postponed until the coming of the Millennial Dawn.

(Heaven on Earth)

Miss Evard's latest book on "G. H. S., a Synonym for Studiousness," is one of the best sellers of this year. Miss Evard's observation comes from a close range for she works among the G. H. S. students daily and is very familiar with their characteristics.

Mr. Stanley talks seriously of joining the New York Celts for the 1925 season. He won much attention during G. H. S. 1924-25 season and he has had many offers to join the team.

Miss Van Fleit has been awarded a medal by the Latin Assn. for speaking a dead language fluently.

Editor's Note!

Miss Thrush, Editor of Faculty's Astonisher, wishes to beg your pardon for a mistake in last issue. It was Mr. Winks instead of Mr. Sidebottom who sang at the Ladies Aid Meeting. CHARGED WITH BEING TOO LENIENT WITH TARDINESS

Pleads Guilty

Mr. Willennar was tried before the Student Council yesterday. He pled guilty to the charge that he had been too lenient with tardy students. Two of the witnesses against him, Julia J. and Dorothy Ratrie said that he was too easy and did not keep them in more than five times a week. Mr. Willennar was severely reprimanded and told that on second offense of such a kind he would receive a severe punishment. Mr. Willennar promised to be more severe in the future.

Mr. Sidebottom was painfully injured yesterday when the Ford Coupe which he was driving collided with a poodle dog. Miss Evard, who was with him sustained slight injuries.

Mr. Winks was arrested yesterday in the Assembly Room of the High School Building for disorderly conduct. He was lecturing on "Pests of Farmers" and during the speech impersonated a potato bug. His display became so violent that means of restraint became necessary.

SENIOR CLASS

SENIOR CLASS POEM

My classmates, dear classmates, Long years have o'er us flown, From year to year with friendship dear Together we have grown.

In twenty-one, as Freshies, How long ago it seems. We then began our bright career With cherished hopes and dreams.

As Sophies we came back once more, In number less—'tis true, But with hundred-fold more courage, To uphold our Maroon and Blue.

In athletics and in classroom, Always striving, always trying, 'Ere alert to win new honors With determination undying.

In 'twenty-three again you see us Now as Juniors—tried and true, With high ideals and standards, Rising higher to broaden the view.

And now as Noble Seniors
The race is almost done,
And we may say with truthful pride
We have persevered—and won.
—ERMA BISNETT.

THE CLASS OF '25

HEY'RE off!! The race began on September 7, 1921. There were eighty-six entries. The race was to continue until May 28, 1925. The scene of the battle was already much confused due to other events (Sophomore, Junior, and Senior races). Many were seriously handicapped due to their enemy, Bashfulness. They soon conquered this barrier, but others were not slow to appear. Soon after the start, laziness was a continued menace to the end. Some took an early start and soon forged ahead. Others were slow to start but were sure to finish. Nothing of importance, which would prove of interest to the spectators, occurred during the first part of the race. The first post was reached May 18, 1922.

What is the trouble? Some of the entries dropped out!! They seemed to have no hopes of ever finishing. Those in the lead were beginning to widen on their opponents, but it soon became apparent that even among the members of the class there were some who were beginning to break, apparently their starting was too fast!! During this stage of the race several of the entries gained the praise of the spectators, and other entries by taking advantage of those most wonderful things, Athletics and Activities. Several gained great prominence due to Athletics. The second past was reached and it was found that the field of entries was gradually diminishing due to the difficulties encountered.

The third stage began September 7, 1923. Other difficulties became noticeable at this point, some of which were Dates, Parties and Basket Ball games. Those entries who had gained recognition due to Athletics were soon found to be a trifle handicapped. Another point of interest was the entering of Ultra-cooperation in specific parts of the race. The judges warned the entries that they would be disqualified if this evil were not removed, but it seemed of no avail.

This evil was ever present to the end. A most terrible difficulty that the contestants had to face was Spring Fever. It became noticeable also that many were losing interest and were just keeping in for the mere formality of it. They had no definite goal to reach and as a result they reached none. There was a selected few of the more determined type who kept the lead. They had their goal set and they were rapidly reaching it. Far behind them could be found the majority of the others, merely following the leader. It was easily discernible that in this group there were many first-class entries who were capable of a better pace, but who were not putting forth their best efforts.

At last the third post was reached!! Now for the home stretch!! Those few in the lead had widened the gap so far that there was no possible hope of the others winning.

Cooperation was still to be found. The field was found to be still smaller, only about fifty-five would ever finish. But alas! is not that a record breaking race? Never in the history of G. H. S. races had so large a field ever finished. The chief interest is now centered on those in the lead, who will win? Each one in the leading group is furnishing plenty of opposition for the others. Mr. Weather Man was kind and prolonged the menace, Spring Fever. Those poor stragglers, many have dropped out completely.

The finishing post, Graduation, is in sight!!

Fight hard for your place.

-EDWARD SMITH.

PROPHECY OF '25

One day as I sat thinking A vision filled my eyes, I saw some students of G. H. S. Appear in the misty skies.

And as I sat there gazing More clearly they did appear, And I found that they were some people I'd not seen for many a year.

There loomed up in the background The town we once called "Home," But having traveled for a time It became a place unknown.

For now it was even larger Than New York used to he, And the great increase in business Is wondrous to see.

The network of tracks in the city Are now all owned by Harold. In the schools we now find Leslie In the place of Mr. Carroll.

Isabelle at this time is married And living on East High The flat building owned by Oral Beber Will nearly reach the sky.

Maybelle and Harriette in the "Follies" Are making one great hit; With Dale at the head of the paper The Clipper's the best yet.

Mary Kate inherited a large farm And there she struck some oil, And put into "Austins" care And then retired from toil.

Since Ruth has charge of the Nurse's home Opal, Florence, Fanchon and Irene Have taken this as their work And plan to keep kiddies clean.

A theater is run by Wilford, And on the role he has featured Loren and Juke in the latest play, "Love and Marriage Unequaled."

At the head of the P. O. we find Our old friend, Ralph Grimm; And a factory for making clothing Is owned by industrious Glenn.

We now find Velma a hairdresser, And Mabel is Mrs. Dickson, And Arthur Beeber running a factory For Postum—"There's a reason."

The Laughman Hotel at this time stands Right where it used to be Ueber,

And Miss Bisnett is working there As clerk and chief book-keeper.

Wilma is now in the college As a shorthand teacher of fame; The Midway is now owned by "Victor," And became a place of fame.

Jesse now runs the power plant, And Nellie his home keeps quite cheery; And Harriet and Ralph are married now, And still call each other "Dearie."

And as I sat there musing The vision showed as it would, That Helen, and Mabel H., and Vera Are now in Hollywood.

"Ed" Smith is as Edison an inventor, Although it never seemd fair That he should take the honors And remove static from the air.

I have seen from my own experience That women are ruling of late, That Margaret Rider's the president, And Esther secretary of the State.

Jack and Melvin are congressmen, And Mary E. judge in this State; Leona has long been the editor Of the style magazine, "The Elate."

Jo Trimble is president of the college, Dallas Creeger has been coach for a while, And Dorthy Smith as here of late Been aiding Leona on "Style."

At the Broadcasting station of B. A. K. A., We find three maidens fair, Mary, Jo Davis, and Undine are now With their voices filling the air.

We learn that LeRoy Schulthess owns The "Just Rite Knitting Mills;" And when we see Pauline on the screen Our heart with pleasure fills.

Ethel Murray is devoting her life To converting the "Heathen Chinese," And Donald we find is spending time In writing sweet poetry.

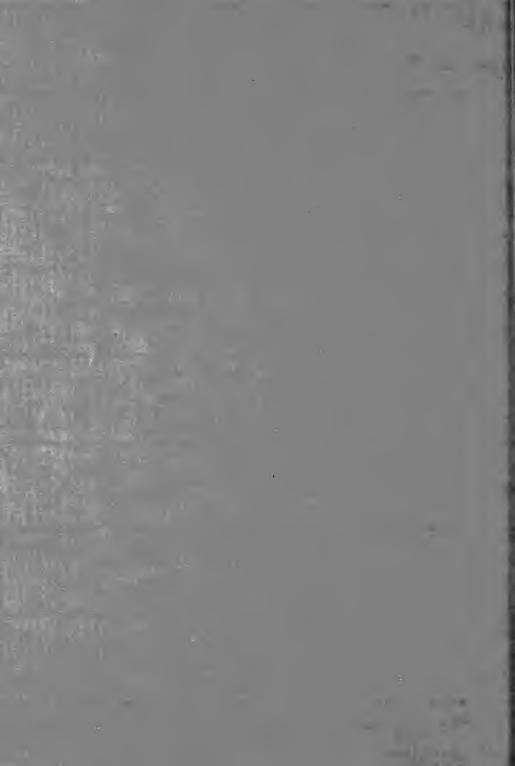

The city is all as it should be, For Dot Ratrie now is the mayor; Kate Foley has taken Kristler's place As the greatest violin player.

And yet as I sat there musing, I realized they were alive, And not just merely visions But the class of '25.

JUNIOR CLASS

JUNIOR CLASS POEM

The Juniors on a September day
Entered the High School happy and gay;
We worked with energy and care
And lived up to our motto B².
In athletics we were strong,
And were well represented in song.
Our one wish shall always be
That we can make the whole world see
That the class of 26 are ever true
And loyal supporters of the Maroon and Blue.

-EVELYN MILLER '26.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

In September of 1922, Mother-bird, Faculty, discovered that she had a new family of little birds, Freshmen, to rear and train for their future lives. The little birds were homely creatures with a few green feathers, and scarcely perceptible wings. Of course, mother-bird did not neglect them in any way but reared and taught them all she could in their first year of life. She found them all to be capable in one way or another.

After weathering the first year with great success the second was easier for mother bird because the young birds were beginning to become more accustomed to the ways of life. They had outgrown their ugly green feathers, which were exchanged for a more dignified covering, and they had become the owners of actually visible, but still small, wings. Mother-bird Faculty was beginning to become proud of the results of her untiring efforts, the Sophomores, but she did not cease her good work.

The third year comes and is employed to still better advantage than the others. The young birds become fledglings and try their wings whenever they feel that their opportunities are at hand; they learn how to provide for coming seasons (examinations) and learn more about life as it is. The Juniors are a credit to the whole great family, the Garrett High School.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

OUR CREED

To keep in mind from day to day, That we are Sophomores that obey, That we must serve, to get repay, As have the Seniors shown alway. We must not for one day forget Unto the G. H. S. our debt; And show to teachers our respect, So all will follow our footsteps. We must in all we say and do Honor the old Maroon and Blue; Nor dim with petty deeds of shame The glory of our high school's name. To do our best, and let that stand, The record of our brains and hands.

THE CLASS OF '27.

-MARY EDYTHE JOHNS.

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

Greener than a crop of pine trees were we when we entered the doors of G. H. S. to embark upon the sea of high school education. As we got on the boat of knowledge our instructors, thinking we were too inexperienced to be our own pilots, did not let us organize, but let us travel as fourth-class sailors or plain gobs for awhile. Knowing we were just as important as anyone else on the ship, we were allowed to have representatives on the Maroon and Blue staff, who were Jeanne Fuller, Robert Brinkerhoff, and Evelyne Elam. We were represented on the student council by Mary E. John and Robert Brown. We were prominent on the football and basket ball squads in our freshmen year and also in all the activities of the school. The biggest social event of this year was an initiatory party given us by the dear little class of '26.

Then our ship launched upon the island of vacation.

After three months relay our boat returned, and we entered as thirdclass sailors. Old acquaintances were renewed and our teachers, knowing we could be stalled no longer, allowed us to organize. We elected Sterling Ward, president, Jeanne Fuller, vice-president; Wayne Sherrick, treasurer; and Robert Brinfferhoff, secretary. Robert had to give up his position to Robert Brown on account of sickness. With a group of strong leaders, such as these at the helm to pilot us, we are far ahead in our sea going adventure.

This year we are represented on the paper staff of the ship by Alverta Steward, William Knisley, and Evelyne Elam; on the student council by Alverta Steward, and Robert Brown. Our pennant is blue and white and our flower is the violet. Our motto, which we generally live up to, is, "Truth conquers all things." We have had many parties including a party for the freshmen, a skating party and a bob-sled party. We are contemplating many more such gala events for the near future. Again we can say we are well represented on the athletic squads. We can again see land but this time the port of summer vacation will be more appreciated than before for as third-class sailors we have had to work harder than before.

FRESHMAN CLASS

FRESHMEN CLASS POEM

Tell us not in mournful words That the road is rough and steep, For we've started on our journey, Hear the tramp of many feet.

We are seventy-nine in number And a class both young and smart, With our teachers kind to help us We will try to do our part.

We are here to gain much knowledge As we proudly form our line: Leaving as the poet tells us "Footprints on the Sands of Time."

Then, when four years work is finished. And Commencement time is here; We have gathered for the last time. And our duty is made clear.

Then the superintendent tells us.
As our work he views with pride:
"If it wasn't for the Freshies
There would be no Commencement tide."
—RUTH GRIMM.

FRESHMEN CLASS HISTORY

The years, nineteen twenty-four and nineteen twenty-five will go down in history famous for three things: first, Coolidge's inaugural address; second, Garrett High School won the County Tourney; and third, our class entered Garrett High.

Our class is really a wonder. Before we came we wondered what high school would be like; when we arrived we wondered what to do next; then, the principal wondered what to do with us; and now everyone wonders how they could get along without us.

One evening the Sophomores informally welcomed us, a class of seventy-nine Freshies, by having a "weiner" roast across from the high school. After playing games we dispersed and realized that we had seen only the beginning of our many good times. Later, we did our share in athletics. Barbara Dirr was on the first team in basketball while several boys and girls were on the second teams. We were also represented in football and furnished the yell leaders for the school. We did not, however, lower our banner of scholarship for two freshmen represented the school in the County Latin Contest and one at the District. In the Music Memory Contest, Hazel Harvey, with two Senior Girls, helped to bring honor to Garrett by winning the County and District Contest. They then went to Indianapolis where they made a good score.

As this school year is drawing to a close, we are looking forward to a better year and planning to help maintain high standards of scholarship and sportsmanship in the Garrett High School.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

E, the Senior Class of 1925, of Garrett High School, in Keyser Township of DeKalb County, State of Indiana, U. S. A. being of disposition, desiring, as the time grows near when we must leave the peace and tranquility of a high school life for the storm and stress of the outer world, to somewhat recompense the school for its inestimable loss, do hereby will and bequeath the following things:

Article I. To the Faculty we will our hopes for as perfect seniors as we in the years to come.

Article II. To the Juniors we will the right to attempt to publish an Aeolian hetter than the 1925 edition.

Article III. To the Sophomores we will our marvelous talent, ability and studiousness

Article IV. To the Freshmen we will a portion of our abundant dignity.

Article V. To Mr. Willennar we will the right to issue as many tardy excuses to the oncoming Seniors as were issued to us.

Unto the following we will and bequeath the following individual Article VI. possessions, and oddities:

- 1. To Bill Moran, Victor Steward's quiet and unassuming ways.
- 2. To Treva Mowery, Mahel Hinklin's many cases.
- 3. To Wilma Shreves, Harriette Rowley's equally curly locks.
- 4. To George Mountz, Virgil Swalley's size so that George may never have to dread being undersized.
- 5. To Dorothy Johnson, Dorothy Ratrie's shyness and timidity.
- 6. To Lee Hollopeter, Harold Martz's extensive correspondence.
- 7. To Kate Sharpless, Kate Foley's little taxi so she won't get any thinner because of walking to school.
- 8. To Lelia VanHouten, Betty Stoner's Latin ability.
- 9. To Esther Clark, Nellie Lung's talkativeness on the consideration that she gets a patent on Nellie's perpetual motion machine.
- 10. To Violet Silliman, Florence Stack's motto "Day by day in every way I'm getting slimmer and slimmer."

 11. To Louise Hart, Helen Hay's willowy form.
- 12. To Gerald Weiler, Leona Weilert's gentle voice.
- 13. To Ward Rickey, Glen Miller's abundant supply of midnight oil left over from all four years.

- To Chet Starner, Leslie Steckley's excellent ability as a class president.
 To Wayne Kemp, Wayne Armstrong's teddle bug. He has no more use for it.
 To Evelyn Miller, Pauline Breckbill's secret ambition to be a Hula Hula dancer.
- 17. To Georgia Bennet, Mabel Batchellor's secret of piano playing provided she does not try to excel Mabel's record.
- 18. To Harry Karr, some of Ralph Grimm's admiration of girls on condition that he use it all on one girl and not on as many as Ralph did.
- 19. To Garner Keefe, Mabel Hinklin's artistic ability if he promises to use it only in the 1926 publication of the Aeolian.
- 20. To Harry Heinzerling, Mary K. Hixson's latest book, "New Slang Phrases."
- 21. To Ruth Ditmars, all Kate Foley's old cross word puzzles.
- 22. To Hollis Breece, Austin VanHouten's piety on condition that he does not sprout wings as Austin did.
- 23. To Timothy Snyder, Arthur Beeber's basketball qualities. (Although we feel he does not need them.)
- 24. To Wendell Bowlby, Ethyl Murray's reed-like form.
- 25. To LaVon Wolf, Julia Johnston's record of being a heart breaker.
- 26. To Cloyd Brown, any Senior's wild dates. (Cloyd wants a past.) 27. To Lillian Beeher, LeRoy Schulthess' undisputed position as a radical in History class.

Article VII. To Mr. Carroll we will the unlimited amount of love and respect which has been accumulating during our four year's sojourn under his constant interest and splendid leadership.

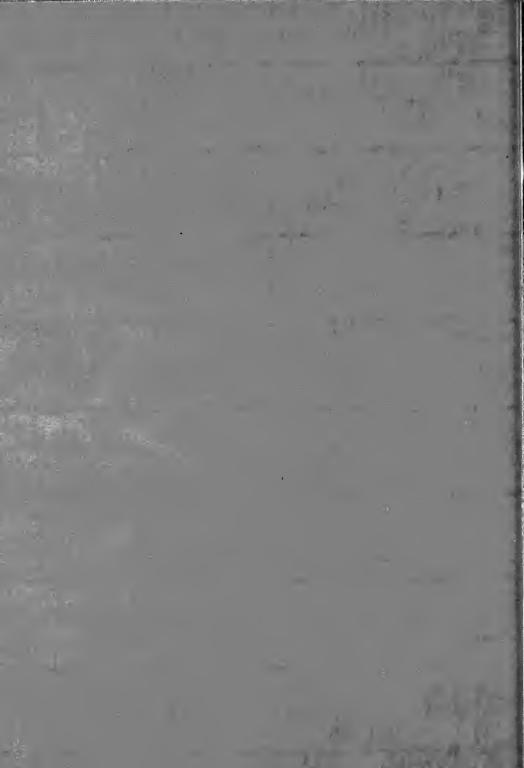

In Witness According-Witness our hands and seals, this nineteenth day of March, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and twenty-five, in Room Eight in Garrett High School.

Sworn hefore me March 19, 1925.

REVIEW OF 1924 SEASON

At the beginning of the season our problem was one of training new men and creating an experienced organization for the season. The schedule was very difficult, but the record made by the G. H. S. team of 1924 will prove to be a real contender for state honors.

The second game of the season was played at Columbia City. The features of the game was the work of G. H. S. line on defense. The locals were unable to get started on offense and were forced to lose.

The first home game was with Bluffton and by this time our team was well rounded into form. The home team displayed a remarkable brand of football which was unquestionably superior to that of the visitors. The off-tackle smashes of Dickson and West were too strong for the visitors.

The game with Warsaw may well be considered the best of the season. Warsaw kicked off and G. H. S. brought the ball on Warsaw's thirty yard line. Here West made a place kick, thus scoring early in the game. Garrett again worked the ball up to Warsaw's five yard line where Steckley carried the ball over for the only touchdown for Garrett. In the fourth quarter Warsaw blocked a punt on Garrett's three yard line and scored a touchdown. The game ended 10-6 in favor of Garrett.

The second home game was played with Auburn. This game was an easy victory for the G. H. S. and the second team had its first chance tor action. The splendid playing of the second team furnished some good material for the season of 1925.

G. H. S. lost their second game of the season to Howe Military Academy, 13-0. The game was played at Howe. The only features was the great work of the line on offense. G. H. S. had many opportunities to score only to lose on downs. Keefe and Steckley who replaced Dickson and West played well. Brown made many nice gains through the line. A strong wind made passing and punting very uncertain and both teams played straight football.

The G. H. S. defeated the strong Kendallville team Nov. S. The game was hotly fought from start to finish. The G. H. S. team outplayed and outfought Kendallville. Garrett played its last game with Decatur here. Both teams were strongly Garrett played its last game with Decatur here. Both teams were strongly matched. Garrett came out at the long end of an 18-6 score, which made the home crowd happy.

In closing we wish to thank "Our Coach," all the patrons of our team, and the high school for the support and encouragement which they so readily gave us.

REVIEW OF BOYS' BASKETBALL 1924-25

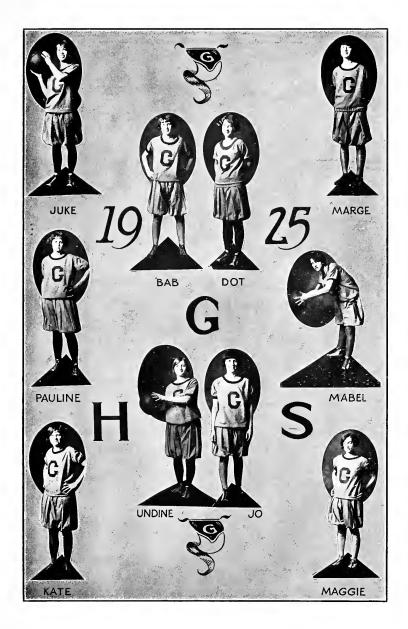

G. H. S. started the season by handing the Ashley squad a severe beating on their floor November 21. Pleasant Lake, Pennville, Kendallville, Harlan followed in like manner. The Pennville game should be given creditable mention. It was a fast game; the locals won by a 20 to 12 victory. It was a great defensive game; both teams exhibited a stronger defense than offense. December 12th Stanley's men tasted defeat for the first time, when South Side won over our team 35-22. Inability to keep up the fast pace with which they started, proved their downfall. January 9, the G. H. S. won an easy victory over the fast Decatur five, by a score of 21 to 47. It was the first time in the history of Garrett Basket Ball that Garrett ever defeated the down state boys.

At the county tourney Garrett defeated Auburn in the finals; thus winning the tourney from our old antagonist.

The district tourney was coming on and everything else was put aside while the boys put through some very strenuous practice. Our first game at the tourney was with Corunna. They were done away with very easily. Auburn and Garrett were both out to win and clashed in the second game of the tourney. Our boys suffered defeat of only a few points.

GIRLS' BASKET BALL REVIEW

November first brought many girls to the gym for tryouts in Basket Ball. As usual many soon found that they were more interested in some other activity and the large number was replaced by a squad of fourteen.

Under the supervision of our coach, Miss Cleaveland, the squad practiced diligently. After the first few weeks the regular team was selected. The six girls chosen as members of the team had had at least one year's experience. Five of the regulars were Seniors and with Julia Johnston, the veteran of the team, as captain, and an experienced squad, we had everything to gain and looked forward to an extremely successful season.

Our first game was played at Butler, November 13th. The season started with a victory and so it continued, until our old rivals at Auburn defeated us by three points. But this was our first, last, and only defeat. It is our most profound hope that with the excellent reserve the future Girl's Basket Ball team may complete their schedule with a record unequalled and unmarred.

BASEBALL

The last week of March a call came forth from Mr. Stanley for Base Ball. The call was answered by twenty-four promising players out of which eleven were put into uniforms and on April 8th they won the first game from the Angola crew. We still have on our program Butler, two games with Auburn, South Side, and Central of Fort Wayne.

This year the team will lose Grant, DeWitt and West, but with Thompson pitching his best, and with the support of the other players a future for the High School base ball team is assured.

ATHLETIC SUCCESS

As we turn the pages of this book we will be able to learn the numerical success of the past season, as far as games won and lost are concerned. Does winning all or a majority of the games throughout a season determine its success? To a person who is vitally interested in physical education the winning of games is only a minor contribution to a successful season. The success of a season should be measured by the mental and physical development that those participating in the games receive.

Physical perfection in the school is a rarity rather than the commonplace that nature intended it to be. Yet the happiness and success of a nation is measured by the health of the coming generation.

Our dream is of the individual, clear-eyed, alert, erect in carriage, enthusiastic, self-controlled, clean and with a sense of fair play. Yet the reality is revealed in our physical examinations.

If the past season has helped to realize some of the dreams of physical perfection, then it has been a success.

COACH STANLEY

It is one thing to have ideals but it is another thing to attain the standards which are set by those ideals. The termination of the 1924-25 basket ball season leaves us with a feeling of accomplishment, not only in the number of victories which are determined by the baskets made, but in the development of the best possible spirit, sportsmanship, and service. To be a good winner is very nearly as difficult as to be a good loser but the girls of the basket ball team have steadfastly endeavored to meet circumstances, whatever they may be, with a cheerful attitude. Each girl has displayed a keen desire to cooperate, and her efforts have been unfaltering in this direction. Reverent respect and admiration are due each individual who so successfully brought to a close the season of the most popular of net games.

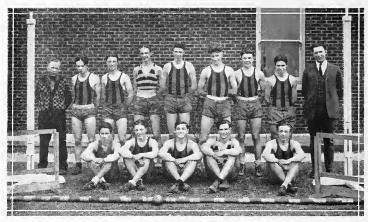

COACH CLEAVELAND.

TRACK TEAM

Mr. Stanley issued a call for track and many fellows responded. Saturday, the 18th, the team went to Angola. Although being defeated, Garrett showed up very well. Harry Heinzerling and Garner Keefe showed up well in the 100, Manford Carr in the 20, Mountz and Roy Burtch in high jump, Starner in the pole vault. The milers will be better after a little more practice. Garrett will no doubt have one of the best track teams in this district at the end of the season. The team was organized too late to get a picture for the Aeolian.

FICTIVITIES

STUDENT COUNCIL

During the session of 1923-24 a Student Council was organized for the first time in the Garrett High School.

Nearly all of the best high schools have definite ideals of citizenship which they desire to have developed in each pupil. It was thought that through the Student Council these ideals of citizenship could be best promoted and that discipline and self control would result from a participation in the affairs of the school.

While the achievements of the current school year have not been great in increasing the importance of the Student Council in the activities of the Garrett High School, yet, the very fact that the group has continued to exist is an indication that pupils and teachers are still working together in an attempt to establish the best machinery for achieving our high ideals of citizenship.

William Knisley, Finley Nash, Harry Rahmer, James McDermott.
Wendell Bowlby, LaVon Wolf, Miss Thrush, Leona Weilert, Dorothy Johnson.
Hazel Harvey, Alverta Steward, Eleanor Brown, Mabel Hinklin, Evelyn Elam.

THE MAROON AND BLUE

Perhaps no other activity benefits the entire school through so few members as does the Maroon and Blue Club. Although the Maroon and Blue is a high school publication it is necessary to have the bulk of the work assumed by the three representatives from each of the four classes. In the club meetings the staff members grow to understand journalism more thoroughly and are better able to edit the paper which marks the school in the eyes of others. This study is efficiently supervised by Miss Thrush, the faculty advisor of the paper. It has been through Miss Thrush's tireless work that the paper has progressed as it has in the past few years. With this splendid study the future staffs will be better able to publish "the perfect Maroon and Blue."

JUNIOR - SENIOR DEMOSTHIAN CLUB

The Junior-Senior section of the Demosthian Club assembled fortynine strong for the 1924-1925 year. Officers consisting of Clinton Hamilton, president; Mary Elizabeth Stoner, vice-president; Jo Trimble, secretary; Dorothy Ratrie, treasurer; had been elected in the spring of 1924, so work began without delay. The Club has turned out many splendid programs during the year under the excellent direction of Miss Davis, the faculty advisor. One of its productions, a playlet, "Sweethearts in Songs" was met with much enthusiasm. The standard of membership in the club is quite high and with the continued help of Miss Davis, the Club's place in the G. H. S. history is assured.

FRESHMEN-SOPHOMORE DEMOSTHIAN

The Freshmen-Sophomore section of the Demosthian Club is composed of thirty-nine students. It is under the competent direction of our teacher, Miss Nancy Davis. During the 1924-25 school year many interesting programs have been worked out and given, including a fine program in the general assembly. For the first time, since the organization of our club, pins were purchased. We were represented in the literary and musical contests. Several delightful parties were given. The officers of the club are:

President-Alverta Steward.

Secretary-Mary Edythe Johns.

Treasurer-Marguerite Vogeding.

Esther Gehrum Vera Sheets, Hollis Breece, Wayne Armstrong, Edward Mc-Cain, Onan Laughman, Ethyl Murray. Wilford Richmond, Beatrice Frazier, Barbar Dirr, Mr. Harsh, Margaret Woodcox, Mary Gallatin.

Helen Hays, Manzella Herzer, Olive Diehl, Mildred Alley, Erma Bisnett.

DEBATING CLUB

The debating club was organized this year under the direction of Mr. Harsh. The club chose for its name the Latin words "Sodalitas Deserta." Officers were elected consisting of Ethyl Murray, president; Edward McCain, vice-president, and Erma Bisnett, secretary-treasurer.

The purpose of the club was to study the principles of discussion and oratorical work. Contestants were entered in both the state contests.

The club has enjoyed many delightful parties at the homes of the members. It also entertained the assembly by demonstrating its debating ability.

Altogether the club feels that it has accomplished its purpose and has acquired some practical knowledge which will be of benefit to the members in many ways.

LATIN CLUB

The Latin club was organized this year under the direction of Miss Van Fleit. Officers were elected as follows: Josephine Trimble, president; Mabel Hinklin, vice-president, and Mary Kathryn Hixson, secretary-treasurer.

The club entertained the assembly in a rather unusual manner. Several readings and songs were given in Latin. The main feature was the play "A Roman Wedding." The betrothal and wedding was presented in costume.

The club meetings were intensely interesting. An extensive study of Roman life and customs brought up many instructive and enjoyable discussions.

In addition to educational activities the club had many social gatherings at the homes of the members. Latin was made a "live subject" through the interest and direction of Miss Van Fleit.

GIRL RESERVES

In April of 1924 the Sophomore and Freshman girls were called together for the purpose of effecting a Girl Reserve Club in the high school. Thirty-five girls became charter members. The active membership is now more than sixty.

The purpose of organizing a Girl Reserve Club in a school is to help girls find "the life abundant" or in other words "to find and give the best."

The blue triangle is the symbol and represents the three-fold development: body, mind and spirit. The club is affiliated, nationally, with the Y. W. C. A. through the New York office. Part of the dues collected here is sent to the headquarters to help in the maintenance of National work.

The officers for the year 1925-26 are:

Floretta Fitch, president.

Eleanor Brown, vice-president.

Edith Houser, secretary

Evelyn Elam, treasurer

Margaret Woodcock, social service.

Mildred Alley, social.

Lela VanHouten, program.

The Advisory members are: Mrs. A. D. Johns, Mrs. Harry Brown, Miss Groscup, Miss Thrush, Miss Evard.

The club is planning to send a delegate to the summer conference which will be held at Camp Gray at Saugatuck, Michigan, June 27-July 5.

Robert Brown, LeMar Creeger, Onan Laughman, Murray McCullough, Oral Beber.

Georgia Bennett, Esther Clark, Sterling Ward, Miss Gregory, William Knisley, Dorothy Johnson.

Ruth Kreiger, Georgia Coburn, LaVon Wolf, Madolyn Tuck, Leah Gehrum.

ORCHESTRA

The High School Orchestra reached the zenith of its career this year under the able supervision of its director, Miss Gregory and the officers: Georgia Bennett, president; Murray McCullough, vice-president; Madoline Tuck, treasurer; and Georgia Coburn, secretary. The club undertook and mastered many difficult numbers this year and its many appearances show the ability and the quality of work that the club members are producing. Obviously the club has merited the position which it holds in the high school activities.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB

At the beginning of the term Miss Gregory held voice tests for all girls wishing to be in the glee club. Forty-five girls qualified and the following officers were chosen:

Delores Stoner	President
Jo Davis	Secretary
Kate Sharpless	Pianist
Ruth Ditmars	Pianist
Mary McKinley	Librarian
Dorothy Ratrie	Assistant Librarian

The club has practiced twice a week throughout the term and under Miss Gregory's excellent training have accomplished some real results.

Many of the girls will graduate this year, but with new material coming in from Junior High, it seems probable that next year's club will be better than ever before.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Home Economics Club reorganized again this year under the supervision of Miss McKinley. The group this year was composed entirely of freshmen girls who were taking the vocational course. The study of etiquette was taken up in detail, and the girls received special training in such points as: the manner of introduction, salutations and various other courtesies so essential to public as well as private life. The course has proven so instructive that the club members are very nearly "walking books of etiquette." Such a course is so valuable that the members are desirous of extending their range of study.

HI-Y CLUB

The Hi-Y Club began work at the beginning of the school term under the leadership of the following officers:

Jesse Coffing President Ralph Grimm Vice-President LeRoy Schulthess Secretary-Treasurer

The officers had been elected in the spring and so there was no unnecessary delay. The year's program was arranged and quite often the usual regime of the meetings was varied by instructive talks from prominent men of this community.

In October the club undertook a rather unusual thing which turned out very successfully. The club was the host of the Hi-Y members of the Fort Wayne, Auburn, and Kendallville Clubs at a banquet and combined meeting. The result was that the clubs were brought into a closer understanding and were able to gain new views and ideas concerning Hi-Y work.

A luncheon in honor of Assistant State Secretary Tracay, who was on a tour of inspection, was one of the many interesting affairs of the eventful year.

The club has the prospects of an equally successful year for 1925-26 under the direction of the new officers:

George Mountz President Earl McKinley Vice-President Secretary-Treasurer Wendell Bowlby

Loren Loomis, Glenn Miller, Hollis Breece, Jesse Coffing, Melvin Chisholm, Vernon Schulthess, Onan Laughman.

Warren Beehler, Russel Nicholson, Roger Hoyles, Miss Gregory, William Knisley, Russell Alford, Robert Brown.

BOYS' GLEE CLUB

The Boys' Glee Club was organized at the beginning of the second semester. Twenty boys passed the preliminary test and they form the personnel of the club. Meetings are held each Wednesday with as much additional time as can be given to them by their director, Miss Gregory.

The club is one of the most enthusiastically active organizations in high school, and fine results are expected from them this year and from those who remain to make up next years' club.

Onan Laughman, Jesse Coffing, Miss Gregory, James Williams, Harry Karr.
Velma Briner, Harriet Martin, Kathryn Sharpless, Dorothy Ratrie, Undine Alford.

HIGH SCHOOL QUARTETTE

The High School Quartette is an organization which has existed in Garrett High School for the past three years. Under Miss Gregory's successful direction it has become an important factor in the high school activities. The two preceding quartettes were placed first in every musical contest in which they were entered. This record was in no way dimmed by the 1924-25 quartette which won both the county and district contests.

The double mixed quartette of this year was composed of Undine Alford and Dorothy Ratrie, sopranos; Velma Briner and Harriet Martin, altos; James Williams and Harry Carr, tenors; Jesse Coffing and Onan Laughman, basses. It appeared many times during the year on General Assembly programs, and at the Irene Byron Sanatorium, at Teachers Institute in Fort Wayne, and will take an active part in the commencement activities.

Emory Heitz, Frank Yarde, Onan Laughman, Lynn Bradfield, Victor Walter, Howard Watts, Chester Treesh, Harry Guilford, Paul Hathaway, Wilbur Eldridge. Robert Weidler, Hollis Breece, Mr. Winks, James McDermott, Kermit Ferrington.

AGRICULTURE CLUB

The name of this club tells a long story to any member of the Garrett High School group of students. However, to outline the work of this club, and of the boys in the Vocational Agriculture Department is of importance for the present students and those we hope to have with ua in the future.

The Aggie Club met early in the year and began to lay plans for the year's work. Officers were elected and general plans discussed. The officers for the year were: Melvin Chisholm, president; John DeWitt, secretary; Paul Hathaway, treasurer; and Wayne Sherrick, vice-president. The Aggie Club again took over the DeKalb County Farm orchard, but due to the poor apple year did not have the success of former years. However, it furnished a good supply of fresh apples and cider for all of the boys and some of their girl friends.

This year as before all the activities of the club were not confined to the work side of one's existence, but through the year there has been roasts, oyster stews, feeds, games and various contests to stimulate interest in the club and its work. In addition to the above forms of recreation we had a basket ball team that played some of the high schools in this section and also some of the other teams not in the high school association. The team composed of John DeWitt, Wayne Sherrick, Melvin Chisholm, Hollis Breece, Carl Haynes, James McDermott, and George Metcalf. played eleven games throughout the year, winning six and losing five. Nearly all of the games were won or lost by a small margin.

Early this spring we had a redent and pest eradication campaign which stimulated considerable interest. Paul Hathaway led in number of points with Rowell Weilert being a close second. About this time we started testing seed corn for the farmers in the community, this testing heing more important than in previous years due to the poor conditions last summer.

At present many of the boys are extremely interested in completing plans for a trip to Purdue in May to the Annual Boy's and Girl's Round-up. This is a big experience in every one's life and a time long to be remembered for its helpful instruction and pleasant times. It is the present plan to have a judging team compete at the same time which will give the members an opportunity of judging some of the best live stock in the state. Altogether this has been a successful year, still bigger and better things are expected for 1925 and 1926.

Lillian Beeber, Floretta Fitch, Mr. Shortz, Marian Caffrey, Undine Alford.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

This year the commercial club was organized by the members of the commercial classes under the direction of Mr. Shortz. Officers were elected consisting of Undine Alford, president, Edith Houser, vice-president, and Wilma Holman, secretary. The club elected for study the various phases of the business world. In addition they listened to many interesting talks from the business men of Garrett. In consequence the members feel they have a broader view of commercial work, a better knowledge of its influences and demands, and some practical ideas of its relationship to social groups.

Kenneth Sithen, Harold Haynes, Andrew St. Amant, Vernon Schulthess, Raymond Rickard, Gerald Wiler, Oral Beber.

Charles Beres, Jack Grant, William Knisley, Donald Allman, Wendell Bowlby, Mr. Sidebottom.

Austen Van
Houten, Linas Draime, Walter Lung, Wilbur Byanski, Richard Dolan, Earl Graham.

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club organized at the beginning of the term, electing as officers:

Harold Haynes President

Charles Beres Treasurer

William Knislev Secretary

Mr. Sidebottom, the advisor, set the club to work at once on the construction of a radio set and the result was a five tube neutrodine.

Many times during the school year the club had night meetings and had the privilege of hearing many splendid programs. On March fourth the club made it possible for the entire school to hear Coolidge's Inaugural Address. At another time the club put on a very clever assembly program consisting of local talent and an imitation radio.

"Radioing" was not the only interest of the club as the members enjoyed many happy social events. On the whole the club has had a very successful season and is looking forward to an even better season after this years valuable experience.

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY

One of the important school productions of this year was a spectacular musical pantomime, "Sweethearts of Song," given by the Demosthian Club under the direction of their instructor, Miss Davis. The playlette was rather unusual and was enthusiastically received by the public.

The scene was laid in the living room of a bachelor's apartment. The young hard-to-please dreamer, suddenly regretting his bachelorhood, reviewed all the sweethearts he had seen in songs. The sweethearts appeared one by one in brilliant colored costumes, characteristic of their nationality, for his approval. Each vanishing figure won only his half-hearted gaze until "Sweet Mary" came out of the shadow. Here he showed a spark of interest but again lapsed into his old lethargy. When the last vision faded "Sweet Mary," the dreamer's choice, stepped out of the frame. As the grand finale the entire cast assembled as a wedding party and jauntily or sedately congratulated the happy couple.

The Senior Class Play of 1925 was "The Charm School," by Alice Gwen Miller and Robert Milton. The three act comedy proved to be the triumph of triumphs in G. H. S.

The first act is laid on the top floor of an old fashioned New York house where a group of five hoys have a bachelor apartment. The boys find that they are nearly at the end of the string—no jobs, no allowances, no more of that "long green stuff" for which Jim Simpkins is always on the lookout. Austin Bevans, one of their number, inherits a girls school and they all accept positions as teachers. Homer Johns, the lawyer, agrees to back them if they promise not to fall in love with any of the pupils.

The next act takes place in the school where, on the arrival of the boys, complications arise. Elsie Bendotti falls madly in love with Austin Bevans, who tries his best to ignore her.

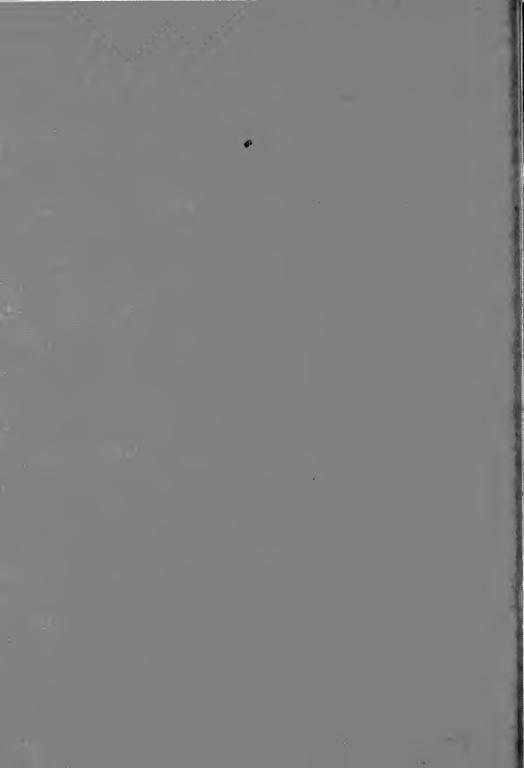

In scene one in act three Elsie decides that she cannot endure Austin's coldness longer and so runs away. When Austin hears of this he immediately follows in his car, which breaks down and they return in a ridiculous old buggy.

In scene two Austin declares his love to Elsie but cannot break his promise to Johns. Johns appears and takes over Austin's share and so the pretty love affair ended happily for the two.

DEBATING CLUB

The Debating club held their second party of the year at the home of Mary Gallatin. The occasion was made merry by the appearance of the members, dressed in "kid" clothes. The evening was spent in playing games, singing, and listening to the radio. A delicious luncheon was enjoyed by all (especially the cider—ask Wayne A.) The party broke up at a reasonable hour—as all "kid" parties should.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

The Commercial Club was delightfully entertained at the home of Miss Floretta Fitch on Wednesday evening, November the fifth. The evening was spent in playing games of various kinds and in listening to a few musical numbers given by Garner Keefe. Three great features of the evening were Mr. Sidebottom doing the bear walk, Mr. Shortz eating in public, and Mr. Winks barking like a pup. The hostess served a very delicious lunch, after which we had more fun and then adjourned.

JUNIOR PARTY

January 20! Whopee! Speaking of fun! Harry Rahmer delightfully entertained his well beloved Junior class at his home on North Franklin street, and such fun!

After everyone had assembled we went to the big school house next door and then the fun began in earnest. Games of all sorts were enjoyed by everyone including the north side janitor, who helped to make the evening a success. About 9:30 we returned to Harry's home where most wonderful "eats" were served and at 10 sharp every one put on his best "bib and tucker" and started homeward. Such noise you never did hear. You could tell everyone had had a delightful time.

SENIOR PARTY

The Seniors were delightfully entertained at the home of Miss Opal Carbaugh. The evening was spent in playing such games as Fan Tan, Flinch, Hearts (Mr. Harsh seems to know how) and various other games. Oh! Eats! Say, if we didn't have the eats. The most interesting event was Florence S. trying to out eat the Senior boys. All Seniors went home knowing they had had a jolly good time.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PARTY

The Juniors were delightfully entertained by the Seniors November 22, at the gym. Both classes were well represented by a group of eighty students. Dancing and games were the main features of the evening.

A luncheon consisting of sandwiches, pickles, ice cream and cake was served to the hungry mob. The Juniors left with a feeling that the Seniors weren't half-bad entertainers, and the Seniors with the feeling that the Juniors were charming guests.

SOPHOMORE PARTY

A cold crisp night! Jingle bells! Two bobs packed like an Auburn-Garrett basketball game! Red noses! A good time! These things helped to form one of the happiest parties of the sophomore class. We all started out in high spirits, singing, yelling, and trying to see how much noise we could make. Our efforts were successful. Finally we reached Auburn, where we were bombarded with snowballs by a group of over enthusiastic boys. On the homeward journey some rode, some walked, and some tried to ride the horses. At last, cold but happy, we arrived in Garrett and went to the home of Madolyn Smith for an oyster stew which everybody greatly enjoyed.

FRESHMEN RECEPTION

It is always customary to receive and welcome the freshman into the high school. This year, instead of the sophomores giving a formal party for the freshmen, all of us got together and had a regular outdoor weiner roast. It was held in the park opposite the high school building, and everything was lighted up by three huge bonfires which formed a large triangle. Weiners, buns, pickles, apples, and marshmallows helped to make the party a great success. After everyone had stuffed to their hearts content we played games in the firelight and told stories. All said they had a good time and we sophomores especially hope that the freshmen enjoyed themselves.

A FABLE

The Radio and the Victrola Had a quarrel; The former called the latter, "Noisy Thing." Vic replied, You are doubtless very noisy; But all sorts of squeaks and howls Must be taken in together, To make up a Radio And the static. And I think it no disgrace To occupy my place. If I'm not so noisy as you You are not so quiet as I,

And not half so cheap. And have a very pretty tone; But, all is well and wisely put; If I have no needle to scratch my back, Neither can you run without a record. ORAL BEBER.

"MY ZOO"

A Flapper's Monologue

"That's a funny question to ask me, Dearie—you ought to know what I think of the boys, goodness knows I've had dates enough with them. What! That's why you ask me, because you thought I could compare them for you? Well, I don't know that I'm very good at comparisons, but if I can find my diary I may be able to let you know how they impressed me, one at a time. Yes, here it is, and full of all my dates. You see I have it named My Zoo—not so bad for a title is it?

"Well first here's Chuck, quiet little fellow who doesn't run around much. He never has much to say and what's worse he never can find anything to do. I've called him my little mouse.

"Then here's Butch—remember how I fell for him? How he does dress and he never passes up an opportunity to show himself off. To me he's —well I've named him the peacock. That says it, doesn't it?

"Now for Benny, that great big clumsy yap. With all his two hundred pounds he thinks he's made to imitate a seraph and flit about like a fairy. He dragged me to one dance, and, oh, how graceful he thought he was! He, of course, couldn't see all the people laughing at him. He thought they were admiring him, that—that—elephant.

"Oh! What a jackass that crazy Claude is! He nearly embarrassed

"Oh! What a jackass that crazy Claude is! He nearly embarrassed me to death with his continual silliness, and he never gets tired of it, no matter how much other people do. That laugh of his nearly set me crazy when I had to listen to it hour after hour.

"Well, well, here's our football hero, Fred. Fine speciment of manhood and strong, gee! No doubt you've noticed how deliberate he is in all his actions. He always reminds me of a great big bear. You know how famous the bear is for his hug, too, and—well, I guess I've said enough.

"For the last one, Dear, we'll consider the—well the parlor snake fits him to a T, and how he does seem like a serpent to me. His smooth ways, soft voice, and perfect manners would make most any girl fall. Once he thinks a girl cares anything for him he is through. The vile reptile certainly played with me. Yes, Dearie, he's the first man who ever made a monkey out of me."

-KATHRYN FOLEY.

WHERE COURTESY WON

MARJORIE Dawes, or Marg as she was called, was the daughter of Judge Dawes, of California. It was thus natural that she should receive much attention from the girls and especially from the boys. But Marg, true to the ideals which her mother had taught her, was as unselfish as she would have been if her father had been a clerk in a country store.

She was a pretty girl of eighteen. Her brown bobbed hair was always twitching with laughter and her large blue eyes were usually gleaming with mischief though they could be very demure when the occasion demanded. She was a great lover of all outdoor activities and admired all sportsmen. Her father belonged to the beautiful country club on Redwood Drive, and Marg here came in contact with the people she liked best.

She and a group of her best girl friends were speeding along the pike in her long, trim, blue roadster at a rate that any cop would have challenged if he were present. They were laughing and chattering while hanging on to the machine.

"Well, here we are," Marg called out, bringing the car to a sudden stop before the piazza of the country club.

"Whew! Let's go in the pool," cried Jane Alden as she sprang from the car.

"Swim?" asked Beatrice Elder in alarm, "I haven't any breath left after that ride, let alone strength to swim."

"How's that," cried Dorothy Drake as she gave Beatrice a violent shove.

"I'll race you to see who can get in the pool first," Marg sang out

"Stop, look, and listen," cried Dot, "who is that perfectly marvelous looking man?"

All the girls turned to follow her gaze, instantly, for they were not adverse to good looks in their gentlemen friends.

"Oh," cried Marg, exasperatingly, "I know him." But with a wry face she dashed into her locker to appear a few minutes later, slim as a boy, in her bright bathing suit. There was no time for talking now; they were all in the pool. Marg skillfully evaded her friends, when they drew near, for she wished to keep her secret until the next day when the National Tennis contest was to be held. She would then introduce Dick Nelson, whom the girls had wished to know, just before the meet in which he and Bob Bronston, her lifelong playmate and sweetheart, were to take part.

"It will be quite exciting," thought Marg as she dove under the water. "Dick is such a nice fellow and he will no doubt play with Bob, who should win. But Bob is so sentimental!"

The girls were even more interested the next afternoon, in the handsome stranger when they found that he was to play in the met. They were all overjoyed when introduced to him just before the whistle blew for the games to start.

"I am under the spell of his eyes," cried Beatrice with a dramatic sigh.

"Marg, you sly minx, you never told us about this Apollo," said enraptured Dot.

Soon all interest in the handsome youth was forgotten. The contest was on. Dick and Bob both won their matches and now faced each other over the net in the fifth game of the set. Excitement reigned, for both youths were excellent players. The score mounted. Dick upon swinging for a ball turned his ankle. It pained dreadfully but he continued to play but to no avail, Bob won the set.

"You played a great game, won fair and square, Bronston," Dick said as he offered his hand to his victor.

The two were soon surrounded by their friends. Marg, noting that Dick left the court alone, hurried after him.

"Dick, it was a wonderful game even if you did lose. You lost as a man," she said with a proud toss of her head.

"Dick's ankle is healed, isn't it Marg? Yet he lingers on and on. I wonder why?" teased Dot, a few weeks later.

"He says he likes the weather," Marg answered solemnly.

The three, Dick, Bob and Marg were inseparable, despite the longing of each youth for the one girl. They had both asked her to the barbecue and dance at the club but she had frankly refused to go unless they all went together. Marg liked both of the boys, for their honesty as gentlemen and their whole hearted fun. She realized that their triangle of comradeship could not last for long, despite the fact that she did not wish it changed. What should she do? How she longed for her gentle mother to whom she could pout out her troubles.

"But surely I can decide," she thought as she joined the two who were in Bob's racer. They set out for the distant horizon, not knowing where to go but happy together. They were climbing a low hill when they noticed a car stalled by the roadside.

"Let us stop and help them," Marg said, and the boys were only too willing when they saw three ladies in the machine. They were soon changing the tire, laughing merrily with the two girls while Marg talked to the little old lady in the back seat.

"Won't you join us for an ice at the inn a little farther on?" asked Bob when he discovered that Dick knew one of the girls.

They readily agreed, for it was a sultry day and they were all thirsty. The two cars drew up before the inn and after helping Marg to alight the boys returned to the other machine. Bob with a smile at the lady, offered his hand to one of the girls but Dick helped the lady to alight and adjusted her wrap on her shoulders. Marg flashed Dick one of her most winning smiles.

That night at the dance she was exceedingly friendly with Bob, but shy and reserved with Dick. At last unable to stand it longer, Dick, led Marg out on the moonlit balcony. "Marg," he said finally, "you know you are the one girl for me. Do you suppose you could care for me that way?"

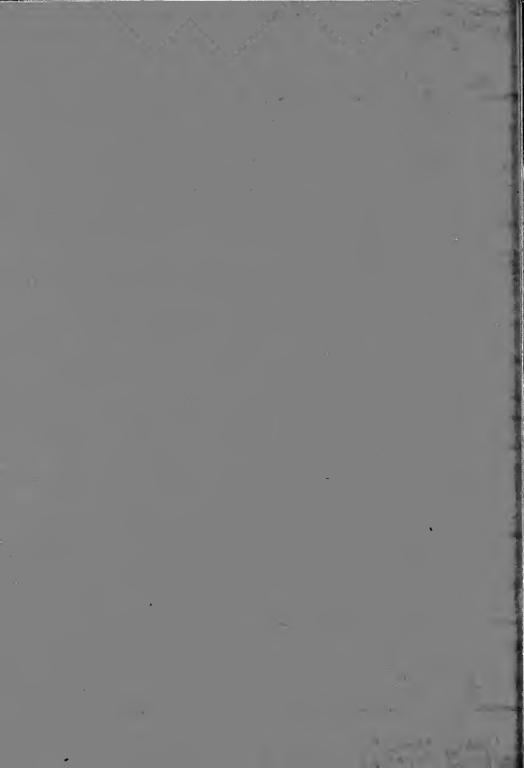

At last Marg had found her ideal, dreamed of by her mother long ago, a gentleman in the highest sense shown by his courtesy to an elder lady. Thus, it is needless to say, Marg willinginly answerd "yes" to Dick.

JÕKES

Pat—I hear your girl and her machine were in a smash-up.

Mike-Yep.

Pat-Do much damage?

Mike—Oh, they both got some paint knocked off.

The latest fashion say suits will be very popular this year—especially divorce suits.

"Is your son going to play football this year?"

"No, he's going to be left end on the Glee Club."

New meanings to old songs:
"Oh, Pal, Why Don't You Answer Me?"

"I can't the telephone's out of order."

CONSOLATION

Turn failure into victory, Don't let your courage fade; And if you get a lemon, Just make the lemon aid.

We wonder if Wrigley's pet phrase is "By Gum."

True worth is in being, not seeming—in doing each day that goes by some little good—not in dreaming of great things to do bye and bye.

Strike arbitrators wanted—Peace
Work.

Lela V.H.—"The doctor says deep breathing will kill microbes."

Bike S.—"Yes, but how are we going to make 'em breathe deep."

A DIFFERENT KIND

She—What do you think of my new coat. Is it too thick?

He (looking at her face)—I like the color, dear; but I'm afraid you really have got it on a little thick.

Judge—"If the waiter was polite to you and brought just what you ordered, why did you knock him down before you went out?"

Prisoner—"You see, Judge, he was my Captain when I was in the army."

Judge-"Dismissed."

"Ma," said Andy, "I ain't going to school any more."

"Why, dear," inquired his mother.

"Cause 'taint any use. I can never learn to spell. The teacher keeps changing the words every day."

Oral—"Do you know why a man's hand can't be over eleven inches.

Mary Gallatin—"No do you?"

Dral—"Sure. Because if it were twelve inches it would be a foot."

LeRoy S. (after church)—"I have nothing but praise for the new minister."

Loren L.—"So I noticed when the plate went around."

FEW HAVE THE SIXTH

Bill M.—"How many senses are there?"

Mr. Stanley-"Six."

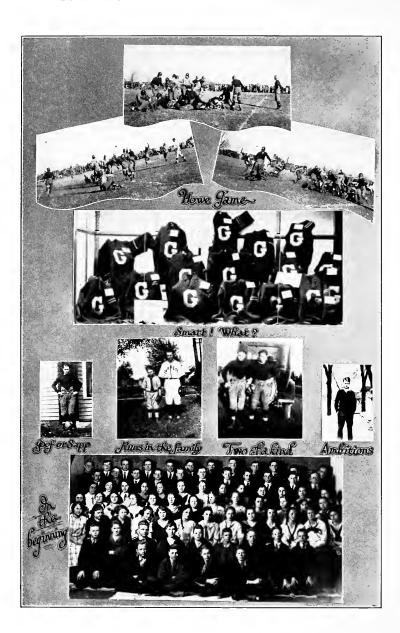

Bill M.—"I only have five."

Mr. Stanley—"I know it, the other is common sense."

To Every Boy and Girl

This bank would like to see every boy and girl start a savings account. There is no one thing which would do more to benefit them, than to learn systematic saving.

Persons who by middle age have accumulated a surplus have usually not done so because they have made so very much money, but because they have always made it a point to put away a little out of everything they have earned.

Perhaps you have a crisp dollar bill or a shiny five dollar gold piece laying idle. The thing to do with that money is to bring it to our bank and start a savings account. We pay special attention to the savings account of beginners. We know that they are going to be the successful men and women, a few years hence.

SCENE IN CLASS ROOOM

Mr. Stanley—"We will now name some of the lower species of animals starting with Leslie Steckley."

Before the two were married,
Theysatwithhearttoheart;
But after they were married,
They sat this far apart.

HOW TO BE POPULAR

Langh at every man's joke.
Tell none of your own.
Believe all fish stories.
Don't snore.
Pay cash.

'Twas midnight in the parlor
'Twas darkness everywhere,
The silence was unbroken for
There was nobody there.

"I vish I was religious as Abi."
"And vv?"

"He clasps his hands so tight in prayer he can't get them open ven der collection box comes roundt."

"Going to your first class this morning?"

"Nope, got a conflict."

"What conflict?"

"Breakfast."

Senior-"Who is your favorite author?"

Freshie--"Father."

Senior—"What did he write?"
Freshie—"Checks."

The world is a stage and all of us are the actors, and the way some of us forget our parts is a shame.

Nellie Lung—Have you seen Pikes Peak?

Pauline B.—No, did some one take it?

Linus .D.—Clark is wrapped up in that Ford of his.

Walter H-When did the accident happen?

Heard from two G. H. S. chemistry students:

1st student—I spilled some acid on my hand yesterday, and it sure did make it smart.

2nd student—Why don't you rub some on your head?

A corker is one who bottles up a little sunshine for a rainy day.

Love makes all things level except a fellow's head.

Some never find anything to talk about. And they talk about it!

An exceedingly hard chap to handle is Mr. I Don't Care.

The Seniors should be reminded that all men are born equal—says the Freshmen!

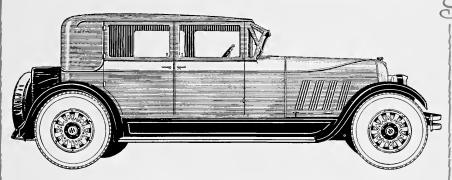

Clinton H.—"Say Garner, what would you do if your girl would kiss you?"

Garner-"Kiss her back"

Clinton—"No you wouldn't, you would kiss her face."

AUBURN

8-EIGHTY-EIGHT

We Don't Mean Maybe

Forget that the new 8-88 Auburn is the finest looking, most advanced design of exclusive custom-built type of car.

Get down to the fundamentals inside of it—the more vital things that insure finer performance and longer life.

Consider the way it is designed and built—the highest quality of material in everything, and the wonderful workmanship.

Forget what any salesman says—ours or a competitor—and do your own buying.

If the character, performance, and comfort of this car cannot sell you, we won't try to.

Enjoy being alone on the road with this new Eight, away from salesmen. Put the car, and not the salesman, to tests. Any test—all of them.

Reach your verdict by what the car does and the way it does it.

Or—go to a reputable mechanic and get him to go over this new Eight "with a fine tooth comb." Ask him to study every little detail and report to you.

Then compare this car with any other car on the market—compare it for structural strength, fine engineering, quality of materials, careful workmanship, power, speed anything and everything!

When you get through, if the car has not sold itself, we won't ask you to buy.

"Mamma," said a little girl, "do men ever go to heaven?"

"Why of course, dear, what made you ask?"

"Because I never saw any picture of angels with whiskers."

Mother, thoughtfully, "Well, but they got through by a close shave."

Husband (dining with wife in favorite hotel)—Here, waiter, where's my honey?

Waiter—Sorry, sir, she doesn't work here any more.

Drummer (entering office of Mr. Dixon)—l've an attachment for your typewriter. Mr. Dixon, that—

Mr. Dixon—For goodness sakes, settle it with her. Your love affairs are no concern of mine.

"Doesn't that girl over there look like Helen Brown?"

"I wouldn't say her dress was brown,"

Sylvia—"Where'd you go last night?"

Sylvester—"I heard William Tell." Sylvia—"The horried thing, he'll never get another date with me."

John—My girl isn't still any place.
Absent, but not forgotten.

"I'm right smart proud of my son at college. He's one of the most popular young fellar's thar," said Farmer Hicks proudly.

"Yer don't say so?" exclaimed a neighbor.

"Yep, he recently gave a big dinner-dance in my honor at one of the most fashionable hotels."

"Wuz you thar?"

"No, 1 weren't."

"Wal, where do you come in?"

"I paid for it."

I used to think I knew, I knew,

But now I must confess.

A Sure Way to Success

In your efforts to succeed it is better to lay a foundation, as the mason lays bricks, by adding one brick at a time.

Systematic saving of a regular amount each week or month, be it small or large, is the sure and infallible road to financial independence.

Lay your foundation for your future financial success today by opening an interest account.

Business Failures

The biggest percentage of business failures are mostly due to men who take a chance without capital. A better way is to wait and save while you are waiting and be financially ready when your opportunity comes. A growing account in this bank will establish your credit and give you the money when your time comes.

GARRETT STATE BANK

GARRETT · INDIANA

Established 1893

Miss Davis—"The cotton gin was invented in 1793."

Garner K.—''No it wasn't.

Hollis Breece (reads from book)
—"Gin invented 1793."

Miss Davis—"That's once you didn't get teacher."

Garner—"Yes, you looked it up."

Miss Gregory (In Glee Club. Talking about holding certain words when singing)—"Don't hold the Booga Man."

"Wayne Kemp has $1000 in the bank. He wrote himself a check for $200 and put it in the bank. Now he thinks he was $1200 deposited. Do you think so?

Louise Hart in English 11-A.— "King Arthur had a pleasant bearing."

* * *

Hollis Breece—"Yes, I guess ball bearing."

FAST TIME

"Waal Zeke, what kind of time did you have in the city?"

"Oh, that durn ol' daylight savin'."

HE WAS SAFE

J. Coffing—"Can a person be punished for something he hasn't done?"
Miss Thrush—Of course not."

J. Coffing—"Well, I haven't done my English yet."

Old Lady—"Here's a penny my poor man. Tell me how did yon become so destitute."

Beggar—"I was like you mum—a givin' vast sums to the poor and needy."

If she sweetly says to you "Stay a little longer, do!"
Get your hat and then skiddoo—
It's time to go.

* * *

First Senior (In Botany)—"I studied till twelve o'clock last night
but not on this stuff."

Second Senior—"Probably on human nature."

He—"Dearest, you're the breath of my life."

She—"Well, why don't you hold your breath awhile?"

A-"I'm your neighbor now, I live just across the river."

B—"Indeed? I hope you'll drop in some day."

Lee H.—"You look sweet enough to eat."

Wima S.—"I do eat. Where shall we go?"

Attorney(to opponent)—"You're the biggest boob in the city."

Judge (rapping for order)—"Gentlemen, you forget I am here."

A Minister was questioning his Sunday School Class concerning the story of Entychus, the young man who, listening to the preaching of the Apostle Paul, fell asleep, and falling out of the window was taken up dead.

"What," he asked, "do we learn from this solemn event?"

Roscoe Z.—"Please, sir, ministers should learn not to preach too long sermons."

A GIFT for special occasions or at any time, nothing could be more appropriate than your Photograph, and it carries with it the personal touch that no other gift can.

Kodaks and films.
Twenty-four hour finishing service.

SING-SINGERS

Miss Davis—"What kind of birds are frequently kept in captivity?"
R. Grimm—"Jailbirds."

"I hear the sea captain is in hard luck. He married a girl and she ran away from him."

"Yes; he took her for a mate but she was a skipper."

John DeWitt and Melvin Chisholm thought they would play a joke on Mr. Carroll. They caught a butterfly, a grasshopper, a centipede, and a beetle, and from the four insects they made a strange composite insect. They took the centipede's body, the butterfly's wings, the grasshopper's legs and the beetle's head, and glued them carefully together, then with their bug in a box they called on Mr. Carroll.

Mr. Carroll looked at the bug and smiled slightly. "Did it hum when you caught it?" he asked.

"Yes," they answered, nudging one nother.

"Then," said Mr. Carroll, "it is a humbug."

AS SHE UNDERSTOOD IT

"Did you pass in Algebra?"

"Best in the class."

"How do you know?"

"Mr. Sidebottom told me I didn't have to come back any more."

Definition of tough luck. "Working for your board and then losing your appetite."

THE USUAL WAY

Ethel—"The bride nearly fainted during the ceremony and had to be supported by her father until it was over."

Edythe—"Yes, and now I hear her father is supporting both of them."

NOT OVERFLOWING

"How's collections at your church, Brudder Jackson?"

"Well, we ain't nebber had to stop in de middle of de collection to go and empty de box."

CORRECT

"What!" said the teacher to the new pupil, who tried in vain to tell the name of the schoolmaster. "Can't you remember my name?"

"N-No, sir."

"My name is Smith, blockhead."

"Yes, sir."

"Well, now what is my name?"

"Smith Blockhead, sir."

Mr. Stanley—"Distinguish between simple and compound interest."

Donald Allman—"Well, compound interest is interest paid annually every half year."

"How long has it been since you last read the Bible?"

Ward West—"Lemmee Figger, I aint never read it at all—how long has it been?"

SCENE AT SENIOR CLASS PLAY

Miss Davis-"All right run up the curtain."

LeRoy-"Say, what do you think I am, a monkey?"

Mr. Harsh—"Where do all the flees go?"

Sterling W .-- "Search me."

GIFTS THAT LAST

THE COMPACT

There's no doubt to the fact
That carrying a compact
Will be your destruction some day;
So take my advice,
Pack it in ice,

E'en tho' your nose is shiny alway.

There's no doubt to the fact
That carrying a compact
Will be your destruction some day;
For its a small task
It's all that I ask,

Don't powder your nose, let 'er shine!

—Madoline Tuck.

Mr. Winks—Do you like cod fish balls?

Mr. Shortz—I don't know, I never attended one.

John DeWitt, viewing picture— How realistic. It makes my mouth water.

Bill Moran, the artist—A Sunset make your mouth water?

John DeWitt—Dear me, I thought it was a fried egg.

Clinton—Jo, if I should kiss you would you call her sister?

Jo Davis—Yes, but she is not at home.

Prof. Sidebottom—I am going to speak on liars today. How many have read the 25th chapter of the text?

Nearly every student raised his hand.

Prof.—Good, you are the very group to whom I wish to speak. There is no 25th chapter.

West-I want you to come to our dance tonight.

Art Beeber—Thanks. Is it formal or shall I wear my own clothes.

Phrenologist—Your son has a pronounced mathematical bump.

Leroy S.—'That's where Dad hit me for getting a 60 in algebra.

"Always remember," said Mr. Willennar, "that whatever you attempt there is only one way to learn and that is by beginning at the very bottom. There are no exceptions to this rule."

"None at all?" said his son.

"None," said Mr. Willennar.

"Then," asked his son. "How about swimming?"

During a registration of voters, the polling place being a barber shop an Irishman entered, and the foreman of the registry board addressed him, "What is your name?"

"James Glynn."

"Where were you born?"

It was plain that James was getting annoyed, but he answered, "Oireland."

"How long have you been in this country?"

"Eighteen months."

"Well you cannot vote."

"Oi don't want to vote, Oi want a shave."

"Waiter," said Melvin C. after waiting 15 minutes for his soup, "have you ever been to the zoo?"

"No, sir."

"Well you ought to go, you would enjoy seeing the turtles whizz past." We congratulate the Senior Class of 1925

G. Keefe—"When you laugh you show your teeth."

B. Moran—"Well when you laugh you show your ignorance."

LaVon Wolf and Evelyn Miller advertised in a newspaper for a recipe for soft white hands.

The answer was as follows: "Soak the hands three times a day in dishwater while your mother is resting."

—Good advice girls.

It is whispered that there will soon be a "G. H. S. Follies." You might inquire of some of our chorus girls.

Policeman—"But didn't you feel the pickpockets' hand in your pocket?"

Absent-minded Prof.—"Yes, but I thought it was my own."

Mrs. New Bride—"I'm afraid you sent me duck eggs this morning instead of hens eggs."

Grocer—"Duck eggs, mam? I don't keep duck eggs."

Mrs. New Bride—"But I tested them. I dropped them in water and they floated."

* * * HARD TO TELL

Tramp-"I've eaten nothing but snow balls for three days, mum."

Lady—"You poor man! What would you have done had it been summer?"

Hannah—"Is you legally sep'rated from your huband'?"

Mandy—"I sho' is. De jedge done gave him 5 years in jail fo' stealin' chickens!"

"Late for reveille again, I see, O'Malley." snorted the irate captain. "How do you account for this persistent tardiness?"

"'Tis inherited, sir," answered O'Malley, "Me father was the late Michael O'Malley."

Pat—"Have you christened your new baby yet?"

Mike-"We have."

"And phwat do you call it?"

"Hazel."

"Sure, bad 'cess to ye; with 223 saints to name the kid after you had to go name it after a nut."

Garner K. (in English Class, waiting for bell to ring)—"Oh! Ring out wild hells."

BAIT

Farmer—"You can't fish here without a permit."

John DeWitt—"I'm doing very well on worms, thank you."

HE WAS SENT OUT OF CLASS

Miss Davis (entering classroom)
—"Order please."

Harold Martz (Half asleep)—
"Egg sandwich."

An elderly gentleman was observed acting rather nervously in a department store, the floor walker approached him.

"Anything I can do for you, sir?"

"I have lost my wife."

"Oh, yes-mourning goods two flights up," responded the floorwalker."

PRETTY TOUGH

"What kind of meat have you this morning?" said the man to the butcher.

"The best steak we ever had sir, smooth as velvet and tender as a woman's heart."

"Guess I'll take two pounds of sausage."

"Say Moran, what are you going to be when you get out of school?" "An old man."

* * *

Benny—"Why did you let that young officer kiss you?"

Jenny-"Well, it is against the law to resist an officer."

Summer housekeeping tasks can be made easier by the use of time-saving, labor-lightening equipment in your kitchen.

Why not a Humphrey Automatic and a new Gas Range?

"Better buy of us than wish you had"

FAREWELL

Farewell to thee, old G. H. S. The Seniors parting call, Good luck be with you through the years, Is hoped and wished by all.

Our memory takes us back again To Freshmen trials and cares, The scars of which through all four years, Each heavy heart still wears.

We once again, recall our days Of Sophomore pride and gay, Of trousers long on quite small boys, Of maidens sweet and coy.

The Junior days seemed best of all, For we were doubly blessed, Respected by the Senior class; Looked up to by the rest.

Then all too soon the years had gone, Till Senior days were here, Then quickly passed from first to last That most eventful year.

Farewell to thee, old G. H. S., We hope you'll miss us soon For we look back with tear-dimmed eyes, To lessons we have done.

We'll keep your teaching in our hearts; The game of life we'll play, To the best of our ability In a true and upright way.

-ETHYL MAE MURRAY '25.
